It, therefore, has happened that while Chicago and Cincinnati have lacked currency for daily operation, and while the former city has frequently drawn from the East, St. Louis has either held a plethora of currency, or has been steadily accumulating balances in New York through shipments thither of exchange received from the South. This increase of loanable funds at an unusual period of the year, leading, as it has, to an inadequate employment thereof, is now inducing investments in securities which are absorbing considerable sums, and which may in turn lead to an unexpected closeness in the money market when the produce of the northwest is thrown upon the market by the complete opening of navigation. Mercantile discounts were not in large offerings, and were readily taken at 889 per cent. interest. Money is in more active demand, but chiefly for local hidding.

The market was flat to-day and sales were light at irregular figures. Holders were anxious to sell their low and stained lists, but were not willing to concede as much as was expected by buyers on the finer grades. The disposition to crowd off the former was very strong. Two hundred and nine bales stained were taken during the day in various lots at from 15a20c, as to quality, 100 bales, ranging from Good Ordinary 21c, 183 Low Middlings from 25a25c. The outside figure was only obtained in the morning; 23 Middlings at 225a25c. The latter could not be obtained late.

Scrips and Tennessee money were alike dull to-day, and it was difficult to get at the exact state of the market. Tennessee money is selling in a small way to fax-payers at 80c, but large lois could be found at 79c.

City scrip is weak at 75a76 buying, selling at 75a80c, as to amount.

County warmints are dull at 76a77c, buying; selling at 75a80c, several small lots were offered to-day, but the demand from brokers is light.

Money is moderatedy easy for all fegitimate purposes, and exchange is in moderate supply only. Buying at 3 discount; selling at par, with only an occasional exception at easier rates.

The decline in gold has unsettled Governments and stocks generally, in the Eastern markets, Governments declined during the day, and were very much unsettled and heavy at the close.
